5:00 P.M. TO SUNSET

This Scientific and Natural Area (SNA) contains a wide variety of rare and unique species in a relatively small area. We will observe high quality sedge meadow species within a short distance from one of the largest remnants of dry barrens prairie in southeast Minnesota. Learn about the value of prescribed burning and how it can help preserve native species habitat.

Please wear appropriate closed-toe waterproof shoes for hiking-boots are recommended. Seating is limited so bring a lawn chair if needed. Prepare for ticks and bugs.
